

ПРУЖАМО ДРАГОЦЕНА РЕШЕЊА PROVIDING INVALUABLE SOLUTIONS

CURRICULUM VITAE

Stojan Stamenković

Stojan Stamenković is a founder, coordinator and long-time editor of a research project "Macroeconomic Analyses and Trends". Since mid-sixties he has been engaged in econometrics, macroeconomic analyses and macroeconomic projections. In the period 1982-1986 he was Chief Economist at the Cabinet of Prime Minister of the Federal Government, Milka Planinc, and from 1983 to 1984 Deputy Head of the Yugoslav delegation for negotiations with the IMF. After that, from 1987 to 1989, he was Director of the Belgrade Institute for Foreign Trade.

In 1989 he returned to the Federal Government where he was engaged in the preparation of economic reforms as a member of Prime Minister Ante Marković's team (Stabilization Programme).

Following the beginning of disintegration of the former SFRY, he participated in negotiations on restructuring the relations in Yugoslavia as a member of the group that worked on the 3rd Chapter of this document (the Chapter on economic issues).

After the creation of the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia in 1992, he was an economics and policy advisor at the Federal Government. Upon dissolution of the government headed by M. Panić (1993) he was excluded from government posts and retired prematurely. Since 1992 he cooperated with Institute of Economic Sciences in Belgrade, where he set the grounds for and initiated the journal "Monthly Analyses and Forecasts" (MAP). By the late 2003 he was a coordinator, editor and coauthor of MAP. From January 2004 by the end of 2010, he led a new research project and the respected monthly journal "Macroeconomic Analyses and Trends" (MAT), published by Economics Institute.

In December 2000 he was hired by the National Bank of Yugoslavia (NBY) to develop projections of the Yugoslavia's balance of payments for 2001, and in 2001 he became a member of the NBY team for preparation and conduct of negotiations on the stand-by arrangement with the IMF (January 2001 and March 2001).

In 2002, as the NBY team member he participated in negotiations with the IMF (February 2002 and March 2002) regarding the conclusion of the three-year extended arrangement. He participated in all negotiations regarding the revision of this arrangement until the completion of the arrangement in 2006. In the period 2009-2012 he has been engaged as an expert in negotiations and revisions of the current stand-by arrangement. In 2012 he was appointed a member of the Council of the Governor of the National Bank of Serbia.

He is a regular member of the Serbian Scientific Association of Economists.